We heard a knock. But there was more. Posted by Keith - 03 Oct 2011 22:23
Hello all.
In the same poor house as the crying EVP I posted, about an hour earlier in a room at the far end of a hall below ground level, chains hung from hooks in the wall. No electricity No running water and no heat in the building. We talked with a spirit named jack. We had ended the EVP session but I never shut off my recorder even when moving locations. We heard this metallic knock but what we found after reviewing was the weird noises before the knock.
I would like to know if anyone else has heard this type of noise during EVP recording. Also what is it?
Thanks in advance for any help.
Keith
