

Absence of Presence and depression

I have had 'energy' around me as far back as I can remember. I attract negative energies. I think that's because I have a positive light. The more positive I am, the more negative energy attaches to me. Sometimes this is in physical form. It's not always spirits that glob onto me. Sometimes it's people and in it's physical form I find negative energy to be the most draining. Although there is at least energy around me.

Has anyone ever felt abandoned when there is no energy? I feel depressed. I feel like no one is there and they may never visit again. It's like being at a really great party and then in a flash finding yourself in solitary.

The house I live in now was owned by a witch. There was not one shred of negative energy in this house. I felt relieved but at the same time there is a vacancy for me. An absence of presence.

Anyone? Or maybe explain what I am going through?
